

BABY REGISTRY AUDITOR

QUICK START GUIDE

Separate real needs from registry noise.

Welcome to the Baby Registry Auditor.

This workbook helps first-time parents cut through baby marketing, reduce decision fatigue, and build a registry based on real needs instead of internet panic.

You do not need to fill out every sheet.
Simply follow the workflow below.

READ THE BLUEPRINT

The Blueprint

Start here to learn the philosophy behind the workbook:

- The Three Rules
- Minimal Viable Baby Setup (MVBS)
- Anti-Marketing Filter
- Common First-Time Parent Traps

This section helps you think about baby purchases before adding them to your registry.

AUDIT YOUR REGISTRY

Registry Auditor

Add the items you're considering.
For each item, answer:

- Is it a Need, Help, or Extra?
- How easy is it to find second-hand?
- When might it be needed?

The Auditor will recommend:

-  Buy
-  Grab from the River
-  Wait & See
-  Skip

Remember: The spreadsheet is a consultant. Consultants can be ignored.

USE THE SHOPPING LIST

Shopping List

Items marked Buy or Grab from the River automatically appear here.

Use this sheet to track:

- Budget
- Source
- Acquisition Status

This is your action plan,
not another shopping list.

PARK UNCERTAIN ITEMS

Wait & See Parking Lot

Not every decision needs to be made today.
Items marked Wait & See automatically appear here.

Review them later when:

- Your baby reaches a certain age
- A problem actually appears
- Your situation changes

Many items will eventually become "Not Needed"—that's a success.

INTERROGATE SUSPICIOUS PRODUCTS

Product Interrogation Room

When a product seems tempting but you're not sure about it, run it through the audit.

Ask:

- Does it solve a real problem?
- Does it reduce chores?
- Does it create maintenance?

The room will generate a Sanity Verdict to help you decide whether the product earns space in your home.

A FINAL REMINDER

The goal is not to build the perfect registry.
*The goal is to make intentional decisions, protect your sanity,
and avoid buying things you don't actually need.*
